

Climate Resilience and Adaptation Lightning Talks

Friday, April 8, 2022 from 9 to 10:30 AM

Come participate in a discussion with students and faculty from across campus and contribute to a roundtable discussion at the end. Students interested in climate adaptation and resilience will present lightning talks focused on climate innovations. This is currently planned as a hybrid event. Coffee and breakfast will be provided for those attending in person. Registration deadline is April 6, 2022.
